CORONERS READY TO FIGHT 200mmadale

They Will Sue the Comptroller for Their Withheld May Salaries.

A hitter legal war is likely to be the result of the difference between the Board of Coroners and Comptroller Myers over the latter's refusal to approve the Coroner's pay roll for

All the Coroners declare that the Comp troller is wrong in assuming that they have 100 dozen Ladies' Pure Silk been receiving fees in violation of law. Coroner Levy said to an Eventuo World reporter this morning: reporter this morning:

For the last twenty-five years the Coroners have never received any Sheriff fees. Frank J. Hawkes has during that time performed these functions of the Coroners office, and the fees, amounting to about $1,000 per year, constituted his compensation.

"Somebody wrote Mr. Myers that we were receiving and retaining fees, and he has acted on that report. We have been told by counsel that our salaries have been filegally withheld." Coroners Hanly and Schultze are very muc held."

Coroners Hanly and Schultze are very much amnoyed at the Comptroller's action, and it was said this marning that they proposed to carry the matter at once into the courts.

Under the code of Civil Procedure, Coroners are endowed with all the powers and privileges, and are required to exercise the duties of a sheriff, in cases where that official is the defendant in a legal proceeding.

In all counties of the State except this, where Coroners are salaried, they are entitled to the fees collected as a perquisite of office. Here, however, the consolidation act of 1882 provides that all fees collected by salaried officials, such as the County Cierk, Register and Coroners, must be turned into the City Treasury.

The County Cierk and Register have made such disnosition of their ices, but Deputy Comptroller Storrs said this morning that the Coroners never have done so, though they have been called on to act, especially in replevin proceedings against the Sheriff, which are very numerous.

But the Coroners have never acted personally in any of these cases, it is said.

Whenever a process which must be served by a Coroner is Issued, it is delivered to Francis J. Hawkes, who acts as a deputy for all of the Curoners and serves the process.

Any Coroner can sign his name to the recess.

Any Coroner can sign his name to the return of the process, which is prepared by Mr. Hawkes, who collects and pockets the fees. Comptroller Myers, however, questions the right of the Coroners, under the Consolidation act, to appoint a deputy to do this work or is keep the fees collected.

Rosenblum was removed to the Riversides Hospital, at North Brothers island, this afternoon. The house where he lived, a five-story tenement, was thoroughly disinfected, and every precaution was taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

There has been no other recent sickness in the house, and, so far as known, there is no trace of typhus in the premises.

Rosenblum is a tinsmith and worked in a shop on the Bowery, which the Health authorities are trying to locate.

It is believed that he contracted the disease there, and other cases are among the possibilities.

Nearly Ready for Presentation.

It is understood that the statement of Mr. Bardsley will be disproved in its most important particulars. An effort will be made, it is said, to show that nearly $400,000 of public funds were diverted, temporarily at least, into the Bradford Mills. It will also be peinted out that during Bardsley's two years incumbency of the City Treasurership more than $4,000,000 passed through the fund in in the keystone Bank, in which Mr. Bardsley kept his private money, and on which he drew cheeks to pay certain bills.

It will be pointed out that when Mr. Bardsley catered office he was heavily involved in debt, owing perhaps $200,000, and that his salary and other emeluments of the office could not have exceeded $30,000.
